

home2design

Wilkinson Builders presents design features & trends for your home

About Us

HOME2DESIGN

For 25 years, Wilkinson Builders has been creating award-winning homes in award-winning communities. Along the way, we've learned more than a few things about what makes a home great. Far beyond the architecture, far beyond the land planning and the site work, far beyond the craftsmanship...is the heart of the home. It's what makes your home uniquely yours. It's incorporating state-of-the-art technology with hot trends. It's having great design, no matter what your budget. On a daily basis, we receive inquiries from people wanting to know more about a certain design element, or feature, or paint color that they've seen in one of our many Model Homes. Thus, our blog home2design has been created. Whether you are searching for a new home, or looking to give new life to your existing home, we hope this will be a tool that will bring inspiration to the heart of your home.

View my complete profile

Blog Archive

▼ 2007 (1)

▼ August (1)

express yourself

00001011

8.8.07

express yourself

Bathrooms are quiet sanctuaries and fabulous design opportunities. Many homeowners are using these private spaces as outlets for their creativity and personal sense of style. Whether contrasting colored glass against tumbled stone, or mixing Italian tile and elegant counter materials, these creative homeowners are utilizing colors and textures as their palettes, opening up a world of design opportunity.

For a truly unique statement, specialty tubs are hard to beat. Free-standing tubs seem to be a common interest among many homeowners, no matter which way their design sensibility leans. With such a wide array of options on the market, die-hard traditionalists are adding graceful double slipper claw foot tubs while modernists are falling in love with the simplicity and clean lines of non-footed models.

In the Carlton SouthGate Masterpiece Home, our designer chose a Kohler Vintage tub that combines the roomy size of many modern tubs with the classic lines of a traditional tub. One practical bonus of this tub is the pedestal base, making cleaning under the tub a non-issue. Beauty and practicality combined is always an important goal, no matter what the budget.

Posted by home2design

Labels: bathroom , Carlton , modern , traditional , tub